

Learning Bird Language at Lake Merritt!

When: Sunday, October 2nd
8:00 am – 10:30 am

Where: Rotary Nature Center
600 Bellevue Ave, Oakland CA 94612

Cost: FREE!! $20 suggested donation.

Come learn about the Lake Merritt wildlife refuge and the many species that call it home!

Have you ever wondered what bird is singing in your backyard and what it is saying? Through quiet observation, mapping, and group discussions led by trained naturalists, you will learn to decipher the different calls of bird language and behavior. Once you begin to recognize territorial calls, alarm calls, and juvenile begging calls, the ecology of Lake Merritt and other Oakland open spaces will become new places of wonder.

Our teacher for the day will be Meghan Walla-Murphy, an experienced educator, writer, tracker, and conservationist. Visit her website at www.meghanwallamurphy.com

We request you RSVP to oaklandnature@gmail.com so we know how many to expect, but drop-in attendance is welcome!

Learn more & ask questions at oaklandnature@gmail.com

